

Home Insurance

Whether you own your home, or rent an apartment, we can find you the best insurance policy to protect your residence and property in it.

Home Insurance, commonly known as Homeowners Insurance, is one of the most important protections you can get to safeguard against damage or loss to your home and property.

The typical Homeowners Insurance provides a number of protections in case of loss or damage:

- Cover cost of repair to your home resulting from damages caused by events such as fire and burglary.
- Pay for loss, or damage to property inside the house resulting from events such as fire and burglary
- Pay for temporary living expenses

- Cover your financial responsibility for injuries you have been found legally liable
- Pay for the medical cost of others injured on your property
